

Music at Barclay Viewforth

Friday 7 September 7.30pm

The artistic talents of players, singers and composers from within and around the Barclay Viewforth community are coming together to present an evening full of musical surprises and diversity!

Alongside familiar organ classics by J.S Bach and Louis Vierne, songs by Britten, Barber, there will be traditional Scottish music and some brand new pieces by local composers Stuart MacRae, Eric Jeffrey, Iain Matheson, Michael Bonaventure, Eddie McGuire and, from the Netherlands, Luiz Henrique Yudo and Hans Christian Dethleffsen.

Taking part will be Michael Bonaventure (organ), Moray Rumney (violin), Emma Torry (soprano). Stephen Tweedie (tenor), Heather Tweedie (cello).

Admission is free and open to all, with donations on retiral in aid of the Organ Fund. Wine and cheese will be served at the interval.

Venue: Barclay Viewforth Church, Edinburgh.
Entrance via Bruntsfield Place and Wright's Houses, EH10 4HR.
